

OUR HISTORY

JULY 2ND 1987

MOM's makes its first sale delivering to a customer at their home.

1989

NPR's Diane Rehm hosts a show discussing Alar on apples. A MOM's customer calls in, giving their organic produce a rave review.

EARLY '90s

MOM's was sending organic produce via mail order Monday & Tuesday, doing home delivery Wednesday & Thursday, and open to the public for retail Friday through Sunday.

2005

MOM's bans plastic bags and adopts their Purpose to Protect & Restore the Environment.

2010

MOM's launches Plastic Surgery to get rid of all excess plastic, including bottled water.

2012

MOM's opens their 1st Naked Lunch in Rockville, an all vegetarian, organic eatery.

2016

MOM's powers up their Solar Farm in Kingsville, MD.

